VOL. X

DIDSBURY, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 9th, 1912.

No. 41

"WHEN the Frost is on the Bumpkin and the fodder is in shock," it's time to think of New Fall Clothes and Overcoats.

Our stock is practically complete now and we want you to come in and see the entire outlay of beautiful merchandise we have brought together for inspection. The line will not be complete again this season—many of the choicest wearables will be gone later. So come in today and look them over.

Winter Will Soon Be Here

And every man who likes to be prepared will enjoy a visit to our store. A splendid showing of New Suits, Overcoats and Coats. In Sweaters we have an exceptionally large assortment of combination colors and the quality speaks for itself.

You'll find it well worth your while to investigate this statement before buying your winterwear. Come in and try on as many as you like.

Watch our window.

Bigger and Better Than Ever

Didsbury Fair for 1912 has come and gone and it is the opinion of those who were present that it beat its predecessors by a big margin, the only drawback was that the weather man, after leading the public to think that they were going to get a fine day in the morning, turned around in the afternoon and sent a gloomy sky with a cold wind, which made it very unpleasant for the large crowd of spectators present.

The number of entries were so large this year, and as many of the exhibits are brought in some distance, it was late before the judging commenced, which caused a delay in opening up the smaller exhibits for inspection by the public and consequently there was a little dissatisfaction, but otherwise every person was enthusiastic over the success of the Fair.

The government judges again complimented the Fair management on the splendid exhibits in all lines and stated that it was the best Fair of its size they had visited this year.

As usual the horse classes were the best filled and the biggest attraction, and the very large number shown was indicative of the great strides this district is making in going into raising good horse stock, in fact as we heard an Ontario man say, "The horse classes would beat a good many fairs in Ontario which is noted for its fine horses."

The cattle classes were better filled than in other years and would have been still better if more shelter had been provided and a prize given for milking qualities, as this district has become one of the largest dairying districts in the west. Holsteins seemed to predominate in these classes.

Sheep and hog classes were not so well filled, the former especially being noted for their absence, while the latter were only represented by a few pens, although what were exhibited were some of the best in their line.

About sixty pens of all kinds of poultry were shown, from the little Bantam hen to the huge turkey gobbler, who felt insulted because he was in such company. There was some splendid specimens of the feathered tribe and this department of the Fair is becoming better every year.

There were two farm displays this year and both were excellent. These displays contained everything that could be grown or raised on a farm from the humble hen's egg to the fine sheaf of wheat. Mrs. J. W. Dageforde is to be complimented on making such a fine exhibit and helping to make this section of the Fair such a success.

The exhibits of grain, roots and vegetables were the best ever seen here. The grain was excellent and the sections for collections of sheaves was filled to overflowing. There was very few varieties of grass shown but there was one that was entirely new to the Didsbury Fair and that was the English blue grass, which it is claimed is such good feed as well as for coloring purposes. Mr. I. H. Levagood has grown nine acres of this grass this season. The vegetables were a pleasure to look upon, their size, cleanliness from blemishes and all round excellence making it a very hard matter for the judges to award the prizes.

While in speaking of the exhibits the ladies' work comes last, it should be thoroughly understood that it deserves a place near the front because of its excellence. The large tent provided for this work was filled right up from entrance to exit and it is safe to say that never before in Didsbury has there been a better display of bread, cakes, butter, cheese, preserves, fancy work and flowers as was shown in this tent. Usually this branch of the Fair has not been a success, but this year the ladies are to be heartily congratulated for their efforts in making it the greatest attraction to the fair sex.

The Didsbury Citizens Band enlivened proceedings through the afternoon by rendering several fine selections, which were greatly appreciated by the crowd. Two negro minstrels also helped to jolly the crowd with their fine singing and musical numbers with mandolin and guitar.

Before closing this report a word or two should be said about the energetic Sec. Treas. of the Agricultural Society, Mayor H. B. Atkins, who is largely responsible for the success of the Fair through his good management and hard work.

The Secretary has not completed the list of prize winners yet but we hope to be able to publish them next week.

THE HORSE RACES

The horse races were a great attraction, but unfortunately time was so limited that they had to be run off in a hurry to get them all in. The Free-For-All, purse $100, was the most exciting on the programme, the two heats that were run causing tense excitement. The open run was the cause of a great deal of fun, two of the horses objecting to running on the track and making a bee line for the tall timber. The result of the races were as follows:

Free For All—A. Lindquist 1st, Sapphire; D. M. Sinclair 2nd, Larkhart; H. McBain 3rd, Tom Wood Jr.

Green Trot or Pace—J. Baptist 1st, Alberta Prince; W. Hardy 2nd, Vecchia; G. Howe, Lady, and M. Ryckman, Jessie, split 3rd money.

Open Run—Jack Cooper, 1st; Otto Klein, 2nd; Otto Krebs, 3rd.

Pony Race—A. Wilson, 1st; Pierce Bellamy, 2nd; Jim Rupp, 3rd.

Harness Race—J. V. Berscht, 1st; W. A. Miller, 2nd; G. Howe, 3rd.

KIDNEY PAINS IN THE BACK
COULD NOT STAND OR EVEN TURN IN BED—LEGS GREATLY SWOLLEN
All Doctor's Medicine Failed—Cure Effected by Use of
DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.
Again this great medicine has triumphed over kidney diseases of a severe type. From a bed of suffering and helplessness Mrs. Walsh was restored to health and strength by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.
Kidney pains in the back tortured her. Dropsical swellings had set in and she had no reason to hope for cure, since the doctor's medicine failed to even relieve her. Read what the husband says about this remarkable cure.
Mr. Thos. D. Walsh, Picton, N.S., writes:—"Two years ago my wife took to her bed after suffering for a long time from kidney pains in the back. She was not able to stand on her feet or even turn herself in bed. The doctor's medicine was no benefit whatever, that we could see. Sometimes her legs would swell considerably. Reading about a woman in Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, we purchased two boxes and when these were used she was able to sit up. With three more boxes she was restored to health and doing her own housework.
As for myself I also found these pills all that is claimed for them. I give this statement in order that others may obtain the same ease from suffering as that experienced by my wife and myself."

IT'S THE FOOD
The True Way to Correct Nervous Troubles
Nervous troubles are more often caused by improper food and indigestion than most people imagine. Even doctors sometimes overlook this fact. A man says:
"Until two years ago waffles and butter with meat and gravy were the main features of my breakfast. Finally dyspepsia came on and I found myself in a bad condition, worse in the morning than any other time. I would have a full, sick feeling in my stomach, with pains in my heart, sides and head.
"At times I would have no appetite for days, then I would feel ravenous, never satisfied when I did eat and so nervous I felt like shrieking at the top of my voice. I lost flesh badly and hardly knew which way to turn until one day I bought a box of Grape-Nuts food to see if I could eat that. I tried it without telling the doctor, and liked it fine; made me feel as if I had something to eat that was satisfying and still I didn't have that heaviness that I had felt after eating any other food.
"I hadn't drank any coffee then in five weeks. I kept on with the Grape-Nuts and in a month and a half I had gained 15 pounds, could eat almost anything I wanted, didn't feel badly after eating and my nervousness was all gone. It's a pleasure to be well again."

Canadian Sheep Disappearing

Some years ago Canada was known in England and Scotland as a good place for the shepherd to emigrate to. Wonderful stories were told abroad of the flocks in Prince Edward's Island, in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and those on the plains of Alberta. It was impressed on the prospective settler that there were several hundred woolen mills to feed and keep busy and that Canadian woolen goods were sold in the open markets of the world.

These statements sounded good to the immigrant and besides they were by no reason exaggerated.

Many shepherds from the downs and highlands of England and Scotland came to Canada and established their flocks. There was plenty of cheap land admirably adapted to sheep raising and an unlimited supply of good water. Canadian grown mutton was soon preferred above that of England and America, and Canadian wool, though not of the finest fibre, was strong and durable. English operators were brought over for the woolen mills and what promised to be one of the most prosperous industries of the Dominion was well established. The shepherd and the mill owner both went about their work with enthusiasm, and were able to show a comfortable profit on their investment each year. Flocks increased and the looms busily turned out bolt after bolt of woolen cloths.

Then the tariff was taken off wool and clothes and raw material was admitted free. It was thought that this move would stimulate operations of the young industry because of competition, but instead it paralyzed the woolen business of Canada to such an extent that many of the woolen mills have been shut down and abandoned altogether, and gradually the pastured flocks have decreased until the situation at the present time is a serious one.

Over in the United States they have managed things very differently. With few of the advantages Canada possesses for the raising of sheep, that nation has established great flocks that grow more than three-fifths of the wool that is annually manufactured and which practically supplies the entire demand of the American people. But the woolen industry is protected in the United States by a duty of 50 to 55 per cent, a duty that safeguards the sheep-farmers' interests also.

There in the American woolen mills, many of them owned and managed by Canadians who closed their mills on this side to avoid certain ruin, may be found hundreds of textile workers, weavers and designers who first came to us in the days when the woolen industry prospered; and out on the sheep ranches of Montana there is many an English or Scotch shepherd who tried his luck in Canada, but sought the safer market of a protected country as soon as the abolishment of the tariff affected his business.

This is a little story of facts, a bit of Canadian history worth remembering and the chief reason for the lack of interest in sheep raising here in the west Today, with adequate protection, the woolen industry might be the greatest of Canada's manufacturing interests, employing thousands of workers and consuming all the wool Canada shepherds could possibly produce. There would be money and some incentive to raise sheep under such circumstances and the advantages of this stock would no longer have to be constantly referred to by the editor of every agricultural journal in the country in order that the Canadian red sheep may not entirely disappear. —Country Life in Canada.

GOOD THINGS

Rev. F. B. Meyer: Men and women are created by God to be happy and to be good. Qualities of which they are not conscious and by giving them responsibility.—At Regent's Park College.

Archbishop of Canterbury: It is a mistake to imagine that our times are harder and more hurried than those of our grandfathers. Every age is to itself an age of bustle and change.—At Southern.

Sir William Richmond: All through life we have to act; so the sooner we learn some of the parts that will fall to us—hero, modest helper, accepted or rejected lover—the better we shall conduct ourselves.—At the Village Children's Historical Play Society.

Bishop of Oxford: It is the serious minority which accomplishes great things.—At Alfreton.

Bishop of Ripon: Every child that grows up without adequate care is certain to be a burden to the State in after life.—At Lady Glenconner's reception.

Sir Andrew Wingate: If we lose Sunday, we are losing what France and Italy are trying to get back.—At the Victoria Institute.

Mr. S. C. Carpenter: One of the most striking features of the present decade is the miraculous way in which the right people have appeared to meet new needs.—In the "Commonwealth."

Judge Goodnow: A wife is a necessity, and not a luxury.—At Chic go.

ROYALTIES AND EVENING DRESS

The Queen and other members of the Royal Family, including the Princess Royal, have always had a great preference for the demi evening gown with high lace yoke and long sleeves. When there are no guests to dinner at Buckingham Palace it is this style of robe her Majesty favors and a string of pearls and one or two brooches for ornaments. At Sandringham and in Scotland, when the Royal Family are alone, the Queen never wears a low-necked dress. Even when she visited the Opera and the theatres the Princess Royal's gowns were always high and with long transparent sleeves. Queen Victoria was most punctilious about the low-cut dress for dinner wear, and until the latter years of her reign she and her ladies and guests were always attired in the evening as for a ball. King Edward, too, wished to see Queen Alexandra and his daughters always in full dress at dinner.

CHAPTER XXXIII
The Other Claimant

Lady Clavel!
What did the man mean?
Susan Jessop looked thunderstruck.
Granmer Jessop put her hands to her ears and made a few trembling steps in the direction of her own door.

An' he has the Clavel eyes, too! she muttered indistinctly. The world seems full of 'em!
Harry watched and listened in dead silence, intent upon seeing out this interlude, which he guessed to have a direct bearing upon his own position.
Presently Susan recovered her composure.

There's no such name known here, she said, and made as though she would lead the way for Harry back into the garden. Shall I send Anning to put up your horse in the stable, sir? she asked the latter.

Before Harry could reply the strange young man spoke again to Susan.

What you last said to me was a lie, he observed. Can't you see that I mean to get in here, and that I have a right to do so? I have known Lady Anne for years, and if you have any sense you will take me to her now!

That I shall not, sir! Susan exclaimed growing crimson with anger.

Very well. Then I will send a message to your mistress and wait here until you come back to fetch me at her orders.

He took a notebook and pencil from his pocket, and, tearing out a leaf, wrote a few words upon it. Then he asked for an envelope, and putting the message inside, he fastened it up, and directed it to Lady Anne Daubene.

If you'd like a bet, he observed impudently to Harry as the latter was following Susan through the gates, I'll lay you a hundred to one that when Lady Anne reads this she will send the girl back for me like a shot. I know a lot more about Lady Anne than you will ever guess at.

Harry's fists quivered with longing to knock the man down, but he could only affect not to notice his impertinence as he passed within the precincts of the Abbey.

The sky had been growing gradually darker during the last few minutes under a bank of black clouds fringed with a jagged sulphurous edge, and in the tall elms round about the house
the birds were holding a nervous, twittering parliament. At every moment the heat became more clammy and oppressive; the air was full of electricity, hardly a leaf stirred, and nature seemed to be waiting, holding back breath for the outbreak of the storm.

All the doors and windows of the house were open, but by the time

"Enclosed find my son's photo and I feel by writing these few lines to you I am only doing my duty, as my son was a dreadful sufferer from eczema. At the age of two weeks he began to get covered with red spots on his legs and groins, which mother thought was red gum or thrush; but day by day
it grew worse until every joint and crevice were affected and baby started screaming for hours day and night, such a thing as sleep was out of the question. I took him to two of Sydney's leading doctors; one said it was one of the worst cases he had seen, the other did not think it so serious; one ordered ointment for rubbing in, the other a dusting powder. I followed their prescriptions for over four months and still baby kept getting worse. I could not keep him from scratching so great was his agony.

"When he was five months old I tried the Cuticura Remedies and I am very thankful to say my baby is to-day free from all his suffering. His groins were bleeding when I started

SCOTT, HILL AND CO.

22 Canada Life Building,

Winnipeg, Man.

Harry entered the drawing-room it had become so dark that he could hardly distinguish the two white-clad figures seated near the tea-table as he came in from the open air.

You must help me to reassure Miss Morgan, Lady Anne said as she gave Harry her hand. It appears that she is horribly afraid of thunderstorms, and I fear we are going to have a very bad one.

It is absurd of me, Lillias declared with a nervous break in her voice. I was born during a thunderstorm, but they send me half-mad with fright.
The only thing I can do is to put my head on a pillow and hold it over my ears. But perhaps this will pass over. Do tell me, have you got rid of that horrid man?

Susan is bringing a message from him, Harry explained.

The girl entered the drawing-room at that moment, having stopped on the way to speak to George Anning about Harry's horse, and she presented the letter to her mistress on a salver.

Lady Anne glanced at it disdainfully.

Some odious little bounder who says he has more right here than I have, Miss Morgan tells me. She said as she tore open the envelope. He must be—

She stopped short suddenly.

The bounder's message had met her eyes and brought into them a look of astonishment and fear. She grew pale and remained silent for a few moments. Then she addressed Harry.

Did you not tell me this man was like you? she asked.

I suppose he was, a little, though I am not proud of it.

Dark, and rather Jewish-looking,
you told me?

Yes?

Lady Anne drew a deep breath.

Then she turned to Susan Jessop.

Is this the person who gave you this message in here, she said.

Susan longed to utter a scandalized protest, but did not dare. As soon as she had departed to perform her uncongenial errand, Harry put in a word of remonstrance.

You cannot guess, I am sure, he said, how offensive this man was in manner and in words. He pretended to know you—

He does.

And to be master here.

He may be.

Harry bowed coldly.

Forgive me for interfering, he said.
I did not understand.

She placed in his hand the leaf
from the notebook.

You can read it, she said. Miss Morgan will excuse us, I know.

The words Harry read were as follows—

Dear Anne—

I have not met you for a good many years, but if you remember Marlon
you will know me as her eldest son, and understand my natural wish to see
Lady Clavel.

What does it mean? asked Harry.

If you are Henry Clavel's son, this man is your cousin.

A Clavel?

No. The son of Marlon Clavel, who became Lady Symonds.

Shall you see him?

How can I refuse?

But he says the place belongs to him.

She looked at him intently with a strange shining in her luminous blue eyes.

So it would belong to him, she said slowly, but for you.

For me?

More About
The Loading Platform

The present generation of Western farmers will never know the difficulties and vexations experienced by their predecessors in the earlier years when no one could get a carload of grain shipped in bulk except by loading it through an elevator. The system forced the majority of farmers to sell their grain to the elevator owners at arbitrary prices, and oft times to submit to heavy dockage and other annoyances, causing continual dissatisfaction. Now however the distribution of cars as fixed by the Grain Act, and the use of the loading platform, provide facilities which enable the farmer to secure satisfactory treatment in the disposal of his grain, and the highest market prices at time of sale. Every farmer therefore, should more and more endeavor to use the loading platform in shipping his grain to the terminal elevators. It is the safeguard of the farmer's freedom in disposing of his grain to the best advantage for himself. If farmers refrain from using the loading platform freely, it might result in its being done away with, because railway companies and elevator owners are strongly opposed to it. It is easy to understand why elevator people desire the loading platform abolished.
The railway people on their part say it delays the loading of cars and helps to cause car shortage. This we know to be nonsense, because frequently after cars are loaded whether with grain, coal lumber or other merchandise, they are sidetracked for days and even weeks instead of being promptly moved forward to destination. It is engine shortage and shortage of competent train men that mostly causes grain blockades on railways and not lack of cars. Let every farmer therefore, do all he can to use the loading platform and become an independent shipper. In subsequent advertisements we will state in detail the savings and other advantages of direct loading into cars compared with loading through elevators.

We handle the farmers grain strictly on commission, make liberal advances on car bills of lading, supervise the grading at time cars are inspected, secure the highest prices at time of sale and make prompt returns when sold. Write us for shipping instructions and market information.

MOVEMENT OF GRAIN

RAILWAY OFFICIALS SAY GRAIN IS GOING OUT QUICKLY

It is stated that there are plenty of cars as yet available, and farmers are delivering grain so promptly that there is little delay in loading.

Winnipeg.—The fine threshing weather of the past week has caused a big stir in the movement of wheat to the lakes from all parts of the west. Although now nearly three weeks behind the normal record, there is every evidence of prompt removal of the grain with very little fear of congestion, according to the railway freight staff in departments of the various railroads. There are plenty of cars in waiting and the farmers are sending their grain so promptly, both to the platform and to the elevators that there is very little delay in loading.

There has been little or nothing done in the matter of shipping a part of the crop through Duluth in order to get it to the seaboard without delay, but it is understood that during this week, when the shipping is in full swing and the estimates can be taken in the different districts as to the volume to be moved, some sort of arrangement will be made by which Duluth will handle the surplus of the eastbound grain. The farmers are working night and day at the platforms, and the break is about even with last year as to the platform loading. The elevators are pouring their golden treasures directly into the cars and the returns so far this year show that this method of disposing of the crop is as popular as ever.

On October 1 the three provinces, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, on the C.P.R. lines, loaded 597 cars of grain.

Last year on the same day 384 cars were loaded, an increase of 213 cars. 156 of these cars were loaded by the farmers direct and last year only 56 cars were loaded from the platform in the output of the days.

It is difficult to state just which method is the more popular, as the districts and roads have to be considered in getting the grain to the nearest point of transportation.

The output of Manitoba from September first up to Oct. 1, this year was 299 cars, out of which 161 cars were loaded from the elevators.

Last year, during the same period, there were loaded 167 cars, 138 from elevators and 29 from the platform.

In Saskatchewan this year up to October first, 1,855 cars were shipped. The figures show all the way through a bigger month for September this year than last, and although the Manitoba demand has fallen off there is a big increase from the district around Saskatoon.

Up to Oct. 1, the C.N.R. have loaded and unloaded under orders 1,161 cars at the elevators and 1,879 cars at the platform stations along their lines.

As most of this demand comes from Saskatchewan there is every reason to believe that the output from this province will far surpass the estimate of the most optimistic.

The officials in charge of the transportation of the grain on all the roads through the agricultural districts of the west are most optimistic over the ease with which the crop will be moved.

Unlike work in previous years, the threshing operations have taken place in sections. Where these operations were furthest advanced there the cars were placed in greatest numbers.

JUDGE REFUSES TO FIGHT

Decision of a German Court of Honor is Ignored

Berlin.—Judge Knittel, who has been challenged by Captain Kammiller to fight him, has declined the invitation without assigning any reasons.

It will be remembered that in a recent trial for libel the court decided that Judge Knittel was justified in declaring Captain Kammiller a malicious imbecile, and that in consequence Captain Kammiller was obliged by a military court of honor to challenge Knittel, who besides being a judge, is an officer of the reserve.

Much curiosity is felt as to the next step to be taken by the court of honor, and whether it will proceed to force Judge Knittel to sever his connection with the army on the ground that he has refused to permit himself to be shot at.

Dr. Stefansson is the discoverer of the Blonde Eskimos in that new region and is desirous of keeping civilized people away from them for fear that disease will be taken in and wipe them out.

Dr. Stefansson was engaged by the American Museum of Natural History and the geological survey of Canada, to make the trip. His reports promise to be exceptionally interesting and useful.

NEW OFFICE FOR FOSTER

Suggested as Canada's Diplomatic Agent in London, England

Ottawa.—Hon. Geo. E. Foster, who is again on his way back to England, for another two months' stay there, on Imperial business, may have his headquarters established there permanently. Mr. Foster is slated to fill the office of Canada's imperial minister as proposed in Premier Borden's scheme for a more direct representation of Canada in Imperial affairs at London.

It is understood that the suggestion has been directly made to him that he become Canada's diplomatic agent and general representative in London with a salary of $15,000 per year.

The present scheme is to extend the scope and importance of the High Commissioner's office by giving it semi-diplomatic and advisory or consultative functions in relation to the Imperial government. As successor to Lord Strathcona, whose retirement may be expected next year, Sir Hugh Graham and Sir Edmund Walker have been mentioned, but, under the new proposals, Mr. Foster, by reason of his political experience and training and aptitude for the larger problem of politics, has undoubtedly superior claims for the post. He would act as the medium for the exchange of confidential information on matters of state, affecting the interest of the mutual interests of Canada and Great Britain, whether in relation to trade or defence and would have in London an advisory and consultative capacity. This proposal was broached by Premier Borden in London, last July, and is part of the government's permanent policy.

As a preliminary to Canada's representation in London steps are now being completed for the purchase of a site for a magnificent Canadian office near Westminster Abbey and adjacent to the houses of parliament. Work on the new building will be begun next year. To further supplement the proposed salary of $15,000 for Mr. Foster, an official residence with allowances in the way of living expenses is suggested.

Whether or not the minister of trade and commerce will accept the position is not known. He is greatly interested in the work of his life here and likes political fighting in the commons.

But it is stated on good authority, that several of his colleagues are anxious to have him take the London position and it is significant that he has been kept for the last few months well in training for it. By the end of November, this year, he will have spent four months out of this year in London and next spring as Canada's travelling ambassador he is going to Australia on trade matters.

Iron, Mr. Foster would prefer his place as minister of trade and commerce to the labor portfolio he now holds.

RANCH INQUIRY COMMISSION

Newly Appointed Body Will Settle Problem Between Rancher and Homesteader

Winnipeg.—The new ranching investigation commission, instituted by the Dominion Government last month, to which Geo. S. Pope and Clarence F. Graham, of Winnipeg have been appointed commissioners, has commenced preliminary organization and will soon start to put on active work of collecting evidence and data.

The commission has been appointed for the purpose of dealing with the ancient strife between the cattle rancher and the homesteader, a question that has for many years been the most difficult that the United States government has had to deal with in the Western States, and which has proved almost as great a problem in Southern Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The commission is expected to give a definite answer to whether grazing lands can continue to be set aside for the sole use of the cattle ranchers in Alberta and Saskatchewan, to the exclusion of homesteaders and set a definite time for the extension of the grazing reserves and of existing grazing leases from the Dominion land department.

ALBERTA RAILWAYS

Canadian Northern Rushing Work on Several Lines

Vermillion, Alberta.—Sir James Ostrum, Bart, president of the Northern and Vermillion Development Company of this town, whose company has been operating in the Vermillion district, quite extensively for the past year, has just had word from General Manager McLeod, of the C.N.R., that 200 men are at work grading out from Bruderheim on the Vermillion-Bruderheim branch of which Vermillion is to be the terminus. The steel of the branch will connect with the main line of the C.N.R. a few miles west of Vermillion. Manager McLeod gave the further information that surveyors are now at work out from Vermillion on the Vermillion-Medicine Hat branch and that just as soon as their report is received, which he expected before the freezeup, grading would begin.

Students as Harvesters

Fargo, N.D.—Nearly 10,000 young men, students in Fargo's colleges, and high schools, will leave before the end of the week to take the place of laborers in harvest fields of North Dakota. In response to insistent demand for farm laborers throughout the state, school heads have agreed to allow all male students two weeks' vacation, and every student who is able will be urged to seek work on farms. Many members of the Fargo Commercial Club will also go to the fields.

THE HOME RULE BILL

AN EARNEST PLEA IS MADE FOR FULLEST DISCUSSION

Editor of the Manchester Guardian. Although an Ardent Home Ruler, Urges the Government to go Slow, and to be Ready to Offer any Reasonable Compromise.

London.—There is a possibility of the rift between the Government and the Labor party widening.

Ramsay MacDonald has made the pledge that the Labor members would vote against the Government unless votes were granted to women, but it is doubtful if he could carry his party with him.

On Thursday the motion for a location of time for passing the Home Rule Bill will be considered.

The Westminster Gazette's parliamentary correspondent says it is the intention of the Government to pass this bill through the House of Commons before Christmas, and that there is no disposition on the Liberal side to criticize the drastic measures of closure necessary for putting through the debate on the bill.

On the other hand, it is significant that in a speech at Manchester, C. P. Scott, proprietor of the Manchester Guardian which exerts the most powerful force among British Liberal newspapers, and himself an ardent Home Ruler, made an earnest plea that the Government should go slow and grant the fullest discussion of the bill and be ready to offer any reasonable compromise.

They were threatened, he said, with resistance amounting to civil war.

It was better that the bill be dropped altogether if the Government did not mean to enforce it when it became law.

HORRORS OF CUBAN ASYLUM

Men and Women Patients in Institution in State of Squalor

Havana.—Dreadful conditions among the Cuban insane confined at the National Asylum at Mazorra near this city are disclosed in a report published in El Mundo.

Upwards of 2,000 men and women from all parts of the island are kept in the institution in a state of frightful squalor, and hundreds among them are nearly naked, without beds or chairs, and provided with insufficient food of the poorest quality says the report.

The condition of the women patients is declared to be even worse than that of the men.

All classes of insane people, except the most violent, are said to be herded together in foul courts.

It has long been known that conditions at the hospital were bad, but the real state of affairs was unknown.

At the beginning of the second intervention of Cuba by the United States, the place was found in a similar condition.

After reconstruction by General Wood, it was again reorganized and remodelled at great expense by Col. Greble of the United States Army, and at the close of the period of intervention it was in all respects a model institution.

Immediately thereafter most of the costly improvements were destroyed, says the report, and the whole institution was allowed to go to complete ruin.

Many startling pictures accompanied the report in the newspaper.

G.T.P. INSTAL TELEPHONES

All Dispatching Will be Done in This Way When Road is Equipped

Winnipeg.—Telephones will soon be installed for train dispatching throughout the entire system of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. The start for this system was announced recently and the first section to be equipped with telephones will be that between West Fort William and Superior Junction. This is, of course, but a beginning. It will not be long till the whole main line is equipped and as soon as that is done the entire train dispatching of the service will be standardized with latest railway operating installations.

Steamers Talk to Land, 2,400 Miles

Berlin.—A splendid achievement in wireless transmission has been made by the steamship Cordova of the Hamburg-American line. While en route to Central America the vessel remained for thirteen days in constant communication with the German wireless station at Norddeich. The maximum distance covered was 2,400 miles. The North German Lloyd steamer, Neckar, for Philadelphia, remained six and one-half days in unbroken communication with Norddeich the greatest at which messages were exchanged being 1,820 miles.

U.S. Ships for Canadian Wheat

Port Arthur, Ont.—American steamboat owners and operators are making inquiries through their agents as to the number of cars of new wheat crop coming into Port Arthur and Fort William terminals, and it is not improbable that there will be a large number of American freighters assigned to the grain carrying traffic between now and the close of navigation.

Birds Invade a Bedroom

London.—Thousands of migratory birds passed over Dover yesterday, flying south and no fewer than sixteen martins were afterwards found in a bedroom of a house on the sea front, having entered by a half-open window.

U.S. LAND LAWS

Senator Smoot Says Bad Laws One of Reasons for Immigration to Canada

Salt Lake.—United States Senator Smoot attacked the land laws in an address before the International Immigration Congress.

Ever since 1906 the provision of our land laws have proven exceedingly burdensome, said the Senator. Although these laws are inadequate and work injustice, the administration of the laws is responsible largely for the burden put on the homesteaders. American settlers are emigrating by the thousands to Canada, and this proves that there is something wrong in our laws that should be rectified. The speaker declared congress had awakened to the needs of the settler and that he expected to put a stop to the exodus to Canada.

At the last session of Congress, he continued, more laws were passed liberalizing land laws than all the other congresses during the last ten years. Heretofore regulations have made it almost impossible to obtain homesteads within the forest reserves, but a law passed at the last session of Congress, I believe, will result in turning most of the twenty million acres of forest reserve lands into a agricultural homestead. National reserves should be utilized according to our present needs. I believe to conserve for unborn generations is wrong. Australia, Portugal, Persia, Guatemala, Mexico, and Canada were among the foreign nations represented at the Congress.

Grain Growers' Guide Answers Manufacturers

Winnipeg.—The Grain Growers' Guide has issued the following statement in reply to the offer of the Canadian Manufacturers association for a conference with the farmers on closer trade relations with Great Britain. The western grain growers have repeatedly declared for an increase in the British preference and eventual free trade with the motherland. If the Canadian Manufacturers association is prepared to assist the grain growers towards this end there is no doubt but that the grain growers will be glad of the assistance of the manufacturers as they realize that the manufacturers have great influence in tariff making. Free trade with the motherland would reduce the cost of living to every Canadian and bind closer the greatest overseas dominion with Great Britain.

Every loyal Canadian will be glad to know that the manufacturers association is not opposed to lower taxes on British imports. If the manufacturers association is prepared for a conference with the producers to assist in securing free trade with Great Britain in ten years, it will be a welcome message to every western grain grower.

Decrease in Homestead Entries

Ottawa.—Canada's remaining homestead lands in the west have begun to show evidence of depletion in regard to their availability and attractiveness for new settlers. The settlers now going in, though even more numerous than last year, are taking up in the aggregate more of the land by purchase than by homesteading. The most accessible free land districts were taken up by the rush of homesteaders during the past decade. For the first seven months of the year the number of homestead entries made in the western provinces has totalled 22,707 a decrease of 1,245 as compared with the first seven months of last year. Homestead entries in Manitoba for the seven months totalled 1,848, an increase of 309. In Saskatchewan, the entries for the seven months totalled 11,699, a decrease of 1,246. In Alberta the total this year was 8,874, a decrease of 307. British Columbia homesteads taken up during the seven months totalled only 180.

Manitoba to Mexico Road is Being Projected

Bemidji, Minn.—In a bulletin just issued by J. M. Wiley on the construction of a Canada to the sea railroad to be known as the Mexican Gulf and Manitoba, shows that the report that surveys actually are under way was correct.

Beginning at Baton Rouge the line is to come directly north striking Minnesota at Leroy, continuing to Minneapolis, then north to Princeton, Brainerd and Grand Rapids, Mallard, Alida, Bagley, Clearbrook and on to Winnipeg.

It is believed that the surveying parties now at work in this stretch of the proposed line are working in harmony with the Minneapolis and St. Louis, which road it is believed will begin actual construction to the border line within the next few months.

Queen Victoria's Diary

London.—The diary of Queen Victoria, from the age of 13 until her marriage, will be published in November by John Murray, who says: This diary will reveal the intimate domestic side of the Queen's life when a girl.

Exceedingly interesting are the records of her conversations with Lord Melbourne, who gave the Queen her first lesson in statesmanship.

The book will also contain sketches drawn by the Queen when a girl of well known people of that time. The diary has been edited by Lord Esher.

London.—The death has occurred at the age of 71 years of John Kettle Clarke, who has been employed at the Orwell engineering works, Ipswich, for fifty-five years, for thirty-three years of which he was foreman.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON II.—FOURTH QUARTER FOR OCT. 13, 1912

Text of the Lesson, Mark vii, 1-13. Memory Verses, 5, 6—Golden Text, Rom. xiv, 17.—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Taking up the incidents between the last lesson and this one we note that because they did not consider his avocations works, such as the feeding of the thousands, they were amazed at his stilling the storm and walking on the sea. That was Israel's trouble all through, and it is ours; we do not consider, or if we do it is ourselves or our circumstances or people and not Him who should occupy all our thoughts (vs. 32, Heb. iii, 1; xii, 3). In chap. vi, 53-56, what a multitude of sick folks gather unto Him, see the streets in the villages filled with them, all hoping that He would pass near enough for them to touch the border of His garment; now beautiful to read that "as many as touched Him were made whole."

Then follows the great discourse on the bread of life, the bread which came down from Heaven, even Himself; and His reply to the question, "What shall we do that we might work the works of God?" In considering His reply remember that believing means receiving (John i, 12) or committing oneself unto Him (John ii, 24). I am continually helped by John vi, 57, "As the living Father hath sent Me, and I live by the Father, so he that eateth Me even he shall live by Me." Also verse 63, The words that I speak unto you, they are spirit and they are life." To many even among true believers, He and His words are still hidden manna of which they have not yet tasted the sweetness or having no spiritual appetite they loathe the heavenly food. They have life, having Him, but not abundant life.

There were many in His day, as there were also in the days of the prophets and as there are in our own time, whose religion is wholly outward, simply a matter of externals, of outward forms and ceremonies—they are referred to in verse 6 of our lesson in quotation from Isaiah. Let us hear two quotations from the prophets concerning them. "This people draw near Me with their mouth and with their lips do honor me, but have removed their heart far from Me, and their fear toward Me is taught by the precept of men." "They come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear my words, but they will not do them, for with their mouth they show much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness" (Isa. xxix, 13; Ezek. xxxiii, 31). In addition to what our Lord said about them in this lesson He said elsewhere, "All their works they do for to be seen of men."

"Ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within are full of extortion and excess." "Ye outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within are full of hypocrisy and iniquity" (Matt. xxiii, 5, 25-28). These are the men who, in the lesson for today, find fault with Christ and His disciples for not practicing the many outward washings of their religion. There are multitudes of such formalists still who are very religious, but it is all outward, and they know not the true God, who searcheth hearts (1 Sam. xvi, 7; 1 Chron. xxviii, 9; Jer. xvii, 10; Rev. ii, 23). In II Tim. iii, 1-5, we read that this end of this age will be characterized by a form of godliness without any power, and truly it is already visible enough and tending to a greater manifestation of the same.

Inasmuch as it was foretold that it would be so, we are not surprised at it, and rejoice that He cannot fail nor be discouraged (Isa. xlii, 4), but the question may well search us. Am I real in my life, living before God rather than men and studying to show myself approved unto God (II Tim. ii, 15; I Cor. v, 9). Our Lord desires a holy people, a people meet for his use (I Peter, i, 15, 16; II Tim. ii, 21), but the cleansing must be inward, by His spirit and His word applying the blood (I Ps. ii, 10; Rom. xii, 2; John xvii, 17; Eph. v, 25, 26). This matter of defilement by unwashed hands is briefly and decidedly disposed of by our Lord in these words, "To eat with unwashed hands defileth not a man" (Matt. xv, 20). In Matt. xv, 11, and verse 15, of our lesson we learn that what cometh out of the mouth, not that which goeth into the mouth, defileth a person, for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh, and out of the evil heart proceedeth all evil deeds and words (vs. 20-23; Matt. xii, 34).

No mere outward religion is of any eternal value, but may be of some benefit as far as this present world is concerned. The great cry of today about the uplift of the race, the Christianizing of nations, making an end of war, etc., is all from the proud, foolish heart of man, without any reference to the great Prince of Peace, who alone can bring peace. All mere human effort as well as all people who are not God's planting must be rooted up, overthrown, broken to pieces, and He who created all things by His word shall bring peace on earth by His word. He will speak peace. His word will do it, as it will also slay the wicked (Ps. lxxxv, 8; xlii, 9; Isa. xl, 4). Only by His word and His spirit revealing Himself can He give peace to any individual, but to any one thus receiving Him He becomes peace indeed, life indeed, eternal redemption.

An All Night Service

The Council met on Monday night in the Council Chambers, Mayor Atkins, Couns. St. Clair, Wrigglesworth, Chambers and Cooper being present.

Couns. Chambers-Cooper—That bills in the hands of the Secretary and OK'd be paid as follows: Maple Leaf Flour mills for use of spur, $8; Atlas Lumber Co., lumber, $4.85; H. Roeth, labor on streets, etc., $88.70; Didsbury Cartage Co., $6.50; J. V. Berscht, for Fire Brigade, $12.15; Robt. S. Bickle, Winnipeg, bottles for acid, $7.70; Durrer & Brusso, chairs, $9. Carried.

The tax rate struck at a former meeting was ratified.

Couns. Chambers-Cooper—That the Council pay H. Roeth $5 for bringing water tank full of water to fires. Carried.

Couns. St. Clair-Wrigglesworth—That Couns. Chambers be instructed to procure a container to keep the soda in at the Fire Hall. Carried.

Couns. Chambers-St. Clair—That the power plant start in to give service in the morning on Oct. 20th. Carried.

Couns. Chambers-Wrigglesworth—That the town engage Mr. Alfred Mjolsness as assistant engineer from the 20th of October at a salary of $60 per month. Carried.

The Council then adjourned.

Cemetery Meeting A Fizzle

At the meeting called to discuss cemetery matters and to appoint new Trustees on Friday night last in the Council chambers there were eight or ten present.

After some discussion the matter came up as to the legality of the meeting according to the terms of the agreement drawn up at the time Mr. J. Y. Shantz donated the land for the cemetery. The copy of the agreement was asked for and Mr. Shantz as Secretary of the Trustees stated that he did not know where the agreement was as it was never given back at the time of the last public meeting about three years ago. Mr. Levi Snyder, the former Secretary, had handed over all the papers to Mr. Shantz when he left on his holidays some time ago. Mr. Shantz had evidently overlooked this paper because when he was asked to look through the documents relating to the cemetery which he had with him he found the agreement with the deed.

A request to read the agreement was made and it was found that a public meeting to appoint new Trustees could not be held until notice had been read in the churches on one Sunday before the meeting was called.

It was then decided by those present that the Secretary should send notices to each of the churches calling a meeting for Monday night, October 14th, in the Evangelical church, at which everybody is requested to be present.

Red Letter Day for Didsbury W. C. T. U.

Next Tuesday, Oct. 15th, will be a day of great interest to the Didsbury branch of the W. C. T. U. workers, when a visit will be paid this burg by Mrs. Gordon Wright, Dominion W. C. T. U. president, of London, Ont.

Though a stranger in this province Mrs. Wright comes to us highly recommended as an eminent speaker and a woman of ability and power in her own sphere of temperance work.

On Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Evangelical church Mrs. Wright will address a woman's meeting, at which all ladies and girls of town and community are cordially invited to be present, and in favor of which the regular meeting on Monday will be omitted.

On Tuesday evening at 8 (also in the Evangelical church) a mass meeting in the interest of the present local option campaign will also be addressed by Mrs. Wright, at which gathering especially a large attendance and an offering in aid of the campaign is cordially solicited.

Westcott News

Russell & Moon have had considerable trouble in getting their engine from Elkton to Westcott, where their separator is.

The Westcott syndicate has engaged Gus. McNair to manage and run their outfit.

C. H. Rinehart started his new outfit near Didsbury where he intends to do his season's work.

Geo. Liesemer was out and installed an up-to-date lighting system in Wm. Wilson's store.

Miss Annie Finlay has been on the sick list for the past week or so.

There is still a good deal of grain to cut in this district and the heavy snow will not improve the cutting any.

Reub McNair has secured a position with Henry Brown's threshing outfit.

Henry Brown has threshed some for T. A. Murphy, Amos Wilson, John Weidner and Will Stickney and all the grain is yielding fairly well.

Oom Jack missed his music lessons last Friday. He was at Stickney's threshing.

The Canadian portrait company's man was around and delivered enlarged portraits to a good many in the district. Everybody is highly pleased with their work.

New Dentists in Town

Another long felt want will be filled in town next week when Drs. Piper & Sandercock, dentists of Calgary, will open up a dental office in the Union Bank building, which they have leased. At the start the office will be open two days a week, Monday and Tuesday, and all appointments for these days can be made at H. W. Chambers' drug store.

These gentlemen will be a great addition to the business circles of Didsbury as they are both experts at their profession.

Dr. Piper is a native of London, Ont., and formerly had a large practice there which he conducted for several years until the lure of the west became too strong for him a year or two ago when he sold out his practice and turned toward the land of plenty. If our personal word will do any good we might say we knew the doctor in the east, his place of business, and also his business connection, which was of the best. He was connected with the dental department of the Toronto University and was on the Board of Examiners before coming west.

Dr. Sandercock also comes well recommended. He was formerly in business with Dr. Doyle of Calgary and is a honor graduate of Toronto University.

Card of Thanks

The local W. C. T. U. herewith express their thanks to the persons of Didsbury and vicinity who so kindly assisted in the donations of "foods and funds" for the W. C. T. U. meals as served in the Jackson block on Fair day, and also for services otherwise rendered. The rare success of that day was achieved only through the aid and generosity of interested friends in the cause. Unclaimed dishes are still on hand in the Jackson block where friends will kindly call for them.

Municipal Meetings in the West

Notices are being posted in the west country calling a meeting to discuss the new Rural Municipalities Act.

The meetings will be held at the Zella and Ardmore school houses on Oct. 16th and 17th and will likely be addressed by John Pirie, Minister of Municipalities. Walter Smith, the Sec. Treas. of L. I. D. 16-B-5 has the matter in hand.

One of our Late Citizens Leads Society in Edmonton

(Edmonton Bulletin.)

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Frank N. Ballard, Eighteenth street, was at home to a large number of her friends.

Mrs. Ballard wore a white chiffon gown with a black and printed border in roses, over white satin and black and gold fringe.

Miss Ballard was in Alice blue chiffon over blue satin and touches of gold.

Mrs. W. A. Brown assisted in the drawing room, and presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Mervin Hay (Edmonton south), Mrs. Little and Miss Ballard. Assisting were Miss Prothero, Miss Mae Smart and Miss Shiletto.

The table was centered with a Renaissance lace centerpiece on which rested a cut glass vase of pink roses, rose-shaded candles at the four corners on doilies to match the centerpiece, and ropes of ferns completed the decorations.

A Hermit for Five Years

WHAT would make the greatest impression on a man who had been shut away from human intercourse and denied the use of newspapers for five years—what would most forcibly attract his attention—on regaining the society of his fellowmen?

"Well," you say, "he is fairly certain to be interested in learning whether there's been a change of government."

True, and probably he will show mild excitement if you can tell him there's been a big war in Europe. But it won't be until you get down to a recital of things that come closer to him, personally, that you'll bring him to his feet with eager questioning.

Tell him a mighty empire has fallen, and—so long as it isn't his empire—a drop curtain of highly embroidered indifference will mask his face.

But tell him the automobile has been so simplified that he can now buy one for the price of a horse and buggy, and he'll promptly bombard you with questions.

A revolution in China may be a world event, but it wouldn't mean as much to him as the perfecting of a shaving apparatus that would do away with the necessity of purchasing new blades or honing old ones.

If you had been a hermit for the past five years, the news of an earthquake in San Francisco wouldn't really mean so much to you as the information that you can now hear any famous opera singer in your own home at a cost of a few cents per hour.

Which is only another way of saying that the phonograph is of more personal interest than an earthquake.

You see how it is: Newspapers carry a "news of merchandise" that is just as interesting, just as vital, as the "news of events" which the editors gather for us.

And, since this "news of merchandise" finds its only expression in the form of Advertising, must we not admit that the Advertising columns are quite as worthy of our serious attention as the scariest "scare head" or the most ponderous editorial?

Shut your eyes to advertising—and you shut out the news of commercial progress and development—the news of things that make life worth the living.

Advice regarding your advertising is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lunaden Bldg., Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write if interested.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or sore, such injury is insured against blood poison! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill!

Then again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this.

Again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh, of 101 Delorimier Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Company and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!

All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c. stamp (to pay return postage). Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Not Disturbed

Two spiders who dwell in different parts of a church one day chanced to meet and got into deep conversation, and asked one another where they lived.

I live under the pulpit, said No. 1, and every week I always think I shall be getting killed; the person banza his hand down, and I have to get into the smallest corner I can find for fear of getting squashed.

Oh, said No. 2, you ought to come and live with me. I never get disturbed from one year's end to another.

Why, where do you live? asked No.

I live in the poor box.

WORK AND WORRY WEAKEN WOMEN

New Health and Strength Obtained by the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

It is useless to tell a hard-working woman to take life easily and not to worry. Every woman at the head of a home; every girl in offices, shops and factories, is subject to more or less worry. These cannot be avoided. But it is the duty of every woman and every girl to save her strength as much as possible and to build up her system to meet any unusual demands. Her future health depends upon it. To guard against a breakdown in health the blood must be kept rich, red and pure. Nothing can keep the blood in this condition so well as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They strengthen the nerves restore the appetite, bring the glow of health to pallid cheeks,
and renewed energy to listless people.
Women cannot always rest when they should, but they can keep their strength and keep disease away by the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Or if a breakdown has come unexpectedly they can obtain new health through this same medicine. Mrs. M. Thomas, Iver Street, Toronto, says: "For several years I was almost a constant invalid, unable to do my housework and spending much of my time in bed. My nerves seemed worn out and I was so run down that all my friends thought I was in a hopeless decline. I was as pale as a corpse; I was so bloodless that if I cut my finger it would not bleed; my limbs were swollen far beyond their usual size. At the least exertion my heart would palpitate violently, and I frequently had fainting spells. I was under treatment by good doctors, but it did me no good. Then one day my husband brought home some Dr. Williams'
Pink Pills and I began taking them.
They seemed to go to the root of the trouble, and in the course of a few weeks the improvement they were making was quite plain. Gradually as I continued taking the Pills the swelling of my limbs disappeared; the weak spells came less and less frequently; my appetite greatly improved, and finally I was completely cured and able to do my housework with ease. Later, my daughter Alma seemed to be troubled with anaemia, and we gave her the Pills with the same good results."

Why suffer in any way when you can begin curing yourself to-day with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50

The moving picture show and dance in the Opera House on the night of the Fair were extremely well patronized and the coffers of the Citizens Orchestra was the gainers thereby. The picture men, Belfy & Friedrickson, are to be congratulated on their excellent programme, and lovers of Dickens especially appreciated the pictures showing scenes from "David Copperfield." The Citizens Orchestra rendered some fine selections at intervals during the show and their music was greatly appreciated. This orchestra is mostly recruited from the ranks of the Citizens Band and their playing revealed the fact that they have been putting in some hard work at practice. It is to be hoped that we shall hear more of them before the winter season is over and that the general public will show their appreciation by their support of the orchestra. The dance was very well patronized, about 75 couples participating.
